

NOA POISBLEAU

GREAT LEAP FORWARD

SUMMARY

Great Leap Forward
objectives and measures

Consequences of the system

reasons for the failure of this policy

INTRODUCTION

What is Great Leap Forward ?

MAO ZEDONG
(1893-1976)

- An economic policy in China
- 1958-1962
- By Mao ZEDONG
(leader of the Chinese Communist Party)
- revolutionary ideas
- desire to increase agricultural and industrial production to develop China

BEFORE GREAT LEAP FORWARD BY MAO ZEDONG

BEFORE 1949

inegalities between urban and rural areas

rural and underdeloped
economy

poverty

agricultural country

OBJECTIVES AND MEASURES

OBJECTIVES OF THE POLICY

Collecting agriculture

Rapidly increase agricultural production

Accelerate industrialization

Reducing social inequalities

MEASURES

CONSEQUENCES

CONSEQUENCES

FAILURE OF COLLECTIVIZATION

FAMINE AND HUMAN LOSSES

INDUSTRIAL FAILURE

REASONS OF THE FAILURE

REASONS

Unrealistic and poorly defined goals

Mistakes in managing agriculture

Lack of control
and information

Thank you

Sources

en.wikipedia.org

britannica.com

asianstudies.org

oxfordbibliographies.com

chronicle.uchicago.edu

China's Great Leap Forward - University of Chicago

